FAITH SHATTERED AND RESTORED

Judaism in the Postmodern Age

With a preface by Aryeh Rubin and an afterword by Rabbi Shalom Carmy

The spiritual and educational approach of Rabbi Shimon Gershon Rosenberg (known as Rav Shagar) has shaped a generation of Israelis who yearn to encounter the Divine in a world progressively at odds with the religious experience.

Fusing existentialist philosophy, Hasidut and postmodernism, this volume sets out a new path for preserving and cultivating Jewish spirituality in the 21st century and beyond.

ON REPENTANCE

Adapted and edited by Pinchas H. Peli

With a foreword by Dr. Itzhak D. Goldberg and an afterword by Rabbi Reuven Ziegler

As a transformation of the personality in response to the divine will, teshuvah uncovers the depths of human nature and of man's relationship with God. In addressing repentance, the Rav confronted myriad questions. Therefore, it is no wonder that some of his most religiously powerful and psychologically penetrating insights appear in his discussions on repentance.

This classic volume speaks to the sensitive and searching soul not just during the days of penitence but throughout the entire year.

Yale UNIVERSITY PRESS

NEW FROM MENORAH BOOKS

Facing the tough questions and perennial doubts head-on, Rabbi Jachter — an internationally known rabbi and dayan — offers compelling evidence in favor of Orthodoxy from the perspectives of science, philosophy, history, and Jewish tradition. A valuable resource for those who seek answers, Reason to Believe will also anchor and amplify the faith of those who feel secure in their Orthodox beliefs and lifestyle.

"Rabbi Chaim Jachter's extraordinary blend of scholarship, talent and experience makes him uniquely qualified to have authored this essential volume.

In Reason to Believe, Rabbi Jachter brings to bear vast Torah knowledge, decades as a master educator and sensitive personal insight; as he tackles the critical questions of faith and belief that confront young and old in today's world."

- Rabbi Shmuel Goldin
Past President, Rabbinical Council of America

"... A masterful and timely contribution."

- Rav Mordechai Willig
Rosh Kollel at Yeshiva University

"Rabbi Jachter, a masterful teacher and prolific writer, has once again produced an excellent work, the influence of which will be felt for years to come. ..."

- Rabbi Elazar Muskin
Senior Rabbi, Young Israel of Century City,
Los Angeles, CA

"Menorat Ha-Meor" [the illuminating candelabra] is a seminal Mussar (ethics) work by Medieval Rabbi Israel Alnaqua, who died at the stake (on the work and the author: see below). Minor age wear.
Clean and tight. In Hebrew, with English introduction to each volume in separate pagination. Very good condition.
Item #18594 Price: $750

On the author and his work (Source; Jewish Encyclopedia): Israel ben Joseph Alnaqua: Ethical writer and martyr; lived in Toledo, Spain; died at the stake, together with Judah ben Asher, in the summer of the year 1391. He is the author of an ethical work in twenty chapters, entitled "Menorat ha-Maor" (Candlestick). The work commences with a long poem, an acrostic on the author's name. Then follows a preface in rime prose.
The introduction to each chapter is headed by a poem, giving the acrostic of his name, Israel. It was printed in 1578. A manuscript of it is in the Bodleian. An abridgment of it was published at Cracow, 1593, under the title "Menorat Zahab Kullah" (Candlestick Wholly of Gold). It is divided into five sections, which contain observations
(1) on laws in general; (2) on education; (3) on commerce; (4) on the behavior of litigants and judges in court; (5) on conduct toward one's fellow men. This is supplemented by a treatise, consisting of Talmudic and midrashic sayings and maxims, which has been published in German (Hebrew characters) in Wagenseil's Belehrung der Jüd.- Deutschen Red-und Schreibart," Königsberg, 1699.
