To Address Rabbis' Parley

Maxwell M. Rabb, assistant to President Eisenhower, and Walter Reuther, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, will be guest speakers at the eighteenth annual convention of the Rabbinical Council of America (Orthodox), which opens Monday and ends Thursday in Detroit.

Another speaker will be Rabbi Joseph E. Soloveitchik of the faculty of Yeshiva University here. Rabbi Theodore L. Adams, council president, and Rabbi Zev Segal of Newark, head of its Israel commission, will report on a recent visit to Israel.
